

ROLLS

SUPPLIES

- A 5 Six-sided dice
- A Pencil
- A Scoresheet

PLAYING THE GAME

For each players turn they get 3 rolls to try get as many points as they can.

A player rolls all 5 dice and puts to the side any of the dice they would like to keep. A player must put at least 1 die to the side for each roll.

After a player has their third roll they add up all of the dice and that is the amount of points they get.

If in the first two rolls the player gets all the dice to land on the same number they get to add up the points and roll all the dice again. However, if it happens on the players third roll they do not get to roll again.

WINNING THE GAME

A game can be played to any agreed upon total or set amount of rounds. A typical game is played to 500.
